About the speakers

Dr Anand Sastry

Dr Emily Henderson
Consultant Geriatrician, Bristol

Dr Antony Johansen

Dr. Antony Johansen trained as a geriatrician in Cambridge, Oxford, Southampton and London before returning home to Cardiff, where for the past 20 years he has been a Consultant Orthogeriatrician at the University Hospital of Wales. His main clinical work is with frail and older trauma patients; leading orthogeriatric services across the whole of the trauma service. His research interests are wide – including the epidemiology of fracture and osteoporosis, fracture prevention, and multidisciplinary care for older people with fracture. Nationally, he has championed Orthogeriatrics as a specialty – having contributed to Wales' National Service Framework for Older People, the British Orthopaedic Association 'Blue Book' on Fragility Fracture, and the NICE Guideline on Hip Fracture. Since 2013 he has been clinical lead orthogeriatrician for the National Hip Fracture Database (NHFD) based within the Royal College of Physicians in London.

Denise Shanahan MSc BSc(Hons) Dip HSW

Consultant Nurse Older Vulnerable Adults &, Cardiff University Honorary Lecturer

Denise qualified as a Registered General Nurse in 1984 and has worked with older people in a variety of hospital settings including acute medicine, continuing health care, slow stream rehabilitation and day hospital. In 2006 Denise was appointed as Consultant Nurse for Older Vulnerable Adults. Denise led the All Wales adult In-Patient Falls Indicator work and is a member of the NAIF

Mr Oli Williams

Oliver Williams qualified as a Physiotherapist in 2008, working primarily in neurological rehabilitation and in the community setting as the Physiotherapy Team Lead in the Vale Community Resource Service. Since January he has been in the role of Falls Strategy Implementation Lead with Cardiff and Vale University Health Board, as part of the Patient Safety Team.

Oliver created the Falls Prevention Fuel Tank video for raising awareness of the risk factors for falls. He is currently working on an intergenerational falls awareness project with local primary schools, Cardiff University students and local older residents, for which he has been accepted as a Bevan Exemplar.

David O'Reilly MD FRCS

Wing Commander David O'Reilly is a consultant general and hepatobiliary surgeon based at the University Hospital of Wales. His clinical interests include advanced laparoscopic hepatic and endobiliary surgery and trauma, particularly trauma quality improvement. Appointed in Cardiff in 2015, he has led major service redesigns and extended the use of laparoscopic surgery in his subspecialty. David qualified in Cardiff before joining the RAF. Most of his surgical training was in London, particularly at the Royal London Hospital, and he did a post-CCT fellowship at the QEH, Birmingham. David gained an MD based on his work at Dstl Porton Down and the US Army Institute of Surgical Research, San Antonio TX. He has seen active service in Iraq and Afghanistan.

Dr Firdaus Adenwalla

Dr Firdaus Adenwalla is a consultant geriatrician in Neath Port Talbot. His special interests are development of Day hospital services, Falls prevention and Community Geriatrics. In 2005 he along with colleagues set up the Acute clinical team in Neath Port Talbot which is now a well established service that forms part of the Community Resource team and provides comprehensive medical care in the community.
